

Trading Policy

The Investment Company approves that it has incorporated written specific norms containing provisions that are sensibly critical to stopping people and certain other persons engaged in trading from violating these Norms, as well as to keep records, use reasonable efforts, and implement and maintain procedures as necessary to avoid, identify, and correct abuses.

Violations of the Trading Policy

If the Compliance Team finds a probable violation of the Trading Policy by a person, it will be required to examine the case, which may include accepting consequences if appropriate.

After the investigation is done, the Compliance Team may discuss appropriate or obligatory activities to determine what type of measures should be taken.

Trading Policy Conditions

- The Client acknowledges that any investment is inherently speculative and carries a substantial risk of loss.
- The Company accepts no responsibility for the Client's trading decisions, including those involving opening orders, investing in specific orders, or employing automated trading programs. It can only be said that the Company takes trading responsibility if it declares in writing that it accepts the conditions.
- If the Manager is unable to contact the Customer for a period of two months or more, the Company reserves the right to temporarily suspend the Customer's trading account or trading activity, dismiss all bonuses paid in exchange for cooperation, as well as any profit earned, in accordance with the working guidelines.
- An inactivity fee of 30% of the total balance may be applied to a trading account in accordance with the operating criteria. Commissions will be deducted from your account balance on the 61st day of each month until you start using the account or the balance hits zero.- The Company reserves the right to impose new fees and charges, as well as amend existing fees and charges, at any time.
- Because almost all trading is performed at the User's request and with the help of a personal manager, all earnings may be considered Company property until the orders are closed. To perform a withdrawal or submit a withdrawal request, all orders must be closed and stated. If there are any open orders on the account, no outgoing transactions can be performed.
- Quotes may differ from market quotes in compliance with the Company's requirements due to intermediation between the market and the liquidity provider. At any time, the intermediary party has the right to amend the quotes. There may be a fluctuation between the open and market prices because the company works with a range of liquidity providers.
